

Allies Landing Completely Fooled Germans in Italy

Analysis of the News by Mackenzie

Editorial Comment Written Today and Moved by Telegraph or Cable.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Forecasting the outcome of a campaign and a delicate amphibious operation while it is still in its early stages, is like counting chickens before they are hatched, but we are achieving momentum in saving the Allied landing on the Italian coast. Rome has been doing well, and the most optimistic could have expected it.

Our side has been both smart and lucky. Our success in getting ashore with virtually no opposition Saturday is, of course, a tribute to the Allied command and the exact sector of the project. Landing on the beach was more than that. It signifies a general weakening of Nazi resistance in the face of the growing United Nations onslaught from all directions.

There's no way of concealing the preparations for an amphibious operation of this size from the big fish alone would give that away. The Allies knew they were back was boiling up. However they didn't know where the Allies were going to hit.

Still, the significant fact is that as a normal measure of precaution they weren't prepared for an assault as such a strategic spot as the beach. The answer undoubtedly is that they didn't have sufficient forces to safeguard all potential invasion points.

The ring of defense is closing in on the beach. The Allies are being pushed to the limit to defend himself against the Russian onslaught of the Red Armies on the long Russo-German front.

BROKEN OUT SKIN
(externally caused)
BLACK
CHECK IT—Stimulating and antipruritic—stimulating with famous Black White Ointment. Use only on Black and White skin.

Anything for a Laugh, Say Jungle Jokers

ATABRINE KEEPS ME GOING

Laughs Yank fighters get from comic billboard pictured above serve as tonic for war nerves. Set in the heart of the New Guinea jungle, it shows a snazzy harem beauty dancing before an oriental nut, who, munching a wafer, explains, "Atabrine keeps me going."

Gov. Adkins to Confer With Judges

Little Rock, Jan. 24 (AP)—Gov. Adkins scheduled an afternoon conference today with the Arkansas County Judges Association's executive committee to discuss possible solutions to the soldier voting problem.

Returning from Washington Saturday, Adkins reiterated his belief the problem could be met without a special legislative session.

"I believe that with the county judges and the state (Democratic) central committee working together, we can work out a satisfactory plan," Adkins said.

His comment came in response to questions regarding two setbacks suffered last week by a soldier vote plan announced by him Jan. 15. The attorney general ruled that his "double-ballot" proposal for the Democratic primary was "in violation of law" and the county judges association asked that he allocate money from his emergency fund of a special state war emergency fund to pay service people's poll taxes.

Adkins' original plan recommended that all judges of the first primary be provided soldier-voter voters, one for the first primary and the other for the second. It also called for the counties to pay the poll tax.

Garland, Columbia, Drew, Crittenden and Jackson counties, all of which have soldiers, agreed to pay for their service people's poll taxes.

Squadron of Former Hop Man Visits Here

Flight Commander W. M. Doe, formerly of Hope, led a squadron of 10 planes this week from Jones Field, Bonham, Texas, to Harrell Field, Camden, Maryland, to pay the poll tax.

The group arrived at Hope at 10:30 p. m. Sunday and Commander Doe visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Doe, 215 North Main. The group maneuvered over the town and then landed at Harrell Field, Camden, Maryland, to pay the poll tax.

The group arrived at Hope at 10:30 p. m. Sunday and Commander Doe visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Doe, 215 North Main. The group maneuvered over the town and then landed at Harrell Field, Camden, Maryland, to pay the poll tax.

This Curious World By William Ferguson

BEARS
THEIR COLDEST CLIMATES
DO NOT HIBERNATE IN WINTER, WHILE THEY LIVE IN OUR TEMPERATE CLIMATES.

ONCE BEHIND THIS ROCK WAS A TABLE OF THE GODS, AND AT ITS BASE THEY LEFT THE GODS TO CONSUME.

COMPLIMENTING A HAT SOMETIMES GOES TO THE HEAD. THE HAT OF MARY BURKHARDT, HARRIS, ILLINOIS.

STATE ROAD BONDS OFFER
New York, Jan. 24 (AP)—A $3,392,000 bond of state of Arkansas was sold today for 100 percent. The bonds were offered today by a banking group headed by Equibank Securities Co., New York City. The bonds were sold at 100 percent, including $500,000 in state bonds due 1972 and priced to yield to the option dates 1965 and 2 to 2.8 percent.

Under a microscope, each snowflake has a different design.

Market Report

ST. LOUIS LIVESTOCK
National Stockyards, Ill., Jan. 24 (AP)—Hogs, 27,000, very active; barrows and pigs mostly steady; a few 170 lbs down weak to 10 lower; state 14 per cent; heavy 14 per cent; 150-160 lbs 12.85-13.35; 140-150 lbs 11.00-12.85; 120-140 lbs 10.00-11.00; 100-120 lbs 8.00-9.50; pigs down to 6.00; good good 11.00-12.85; indications point toward fairly good clearance.

CATTLE, 5,000; calves 800; opening 10.00; range slaughter 10.00; around 80 loads steers offered; choice up to 15.50; a few medium 12.00; medium and mixed yearlings 11.00-13.25; common and medium beef cows 10.00-12.00; medium good sale bulls largely 9.50-11.00; with a few 11.25; beef and beef bulls 11.00-12.00; choice and choice vealers 15.00; medium and good 12.50-13.75; non-meat range slaughter 10.00-15.00; slaughter heifers 9.00-15.00; stocker and feeder steers 8.00-13.00.

SHEEP, 2,000; receipts include one load southern woolheads; balance trucked in lambs with a few ewes; lambs opened active and strong to small killers; good and choice woolled lambs 15.50-15.75; half a dozen 16.00; medium good 13.00-14.50; corn throw outs 10.00-11.00.

POULTRY AND PRODUCE
Chicago, Jan. 24 (AP)—Poultry, live, steady; 4 and 6 week, heavy 23; leghorn 24; colored, broilers, fryers, springers 27 1/2; rooks broiler myers, springers 27 1/2; leghorn chickens 28 1/2; roosters 28; ducks 28 geese 25; turkeys 29 to 35.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS
Chicago, Jan. 24 (AP)—A week's undulations developed in grains today on forecasts of light rains over the Midwest. The market for grain held steady 40 to 50 cents a bushel lower.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
New Orleans, Jan. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures declined here today under hedge selling and profit taking from the long side. The market closed 1/2 cent lower.

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, Jan. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures reacted today after a steady opening. Increased hedge offerings attracted by the recent sharp advance and profit taking on the favorable war news from the Middle East.

Many isn't enough—you're needed too!

When Mary joined the WAC, you thought it was pretty fine. You knew she was just the type to make a good soldier.

The first time she came home in uniform, remember how proud she looked, and how lively she talked about the places she'd been, and her job as an Army airplane and engine mechanic? You couldn't help feeling envious.

Mary's having an important share in this war. She's doing a really vital job.

But there aren't enough Marys! To do all the Army jobs which must be done. You are needed too.

If you're not good at mechanics, perhaps you know how to type, or you like to drive a car. Or you want to learn a new job—something you've never done before. Even if you've never had any kind of job, the Army can train you, and you'll fill a vital spot in whichever branch you choose to serve—the Army Ground Forces, Army Air Forces, or Army Service Forces.

Wacs do 239 different types of Army jobs. And it takes all types of women with all kinds of abilities to do them. There is important and interesting work waiting for you to do.

Don't leave it to Mary. The need is urgent. If you're between 20 and 50 years of age, without a college degree, and are a citizen, you can join the WAC today! (Women in essential war industry must have release from the U.S. Employment Service.)

THE ARMY NEEDS WACS... THE WAC NEEDS YOU!

U. S. ARMY RECRUITING INFORMATION
Post Office Bldg., Texarkana, Ark.
I should like complete information about the WAC.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____
State _____
Phone Number _____

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, Jan. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures reacted today after a steady opening. Increased hedge offerings attracted by the recent sharp advance and profit taking on the favorable war news from the Middle East.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
New Orleans, Jan. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures declined here today under hedge selling and profit taking from the long side. The market closed 1/2 cent lower.

NEW YORK COTTON
New York, Jan. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures reacted today after a steady opening. Increased hedge offerings attracted by the recent sharp advance and profit taking on the favorable war news from the Middle East.

Wanted! Men and Women Who Are Hard of Hearing

To make this simple, no risk hearing test, if you are temporarily deafened, bothered by ringing buzz, or have trouble hearing, we can help you. We have a simple hearing test that can be done at home. It's free. If you pass, we'll give you $100.00. If you fail, we'll give you $50.00. No risk, no charge.

Tatum's Market
At Buy Gro Grocery
111 S. Main
Spot cotton closed steady 45 cents

Social and Personal

Keeping Up With Ration Coupons

Processed and Canned Foods:
December 1—First day for green stamps D, E and F in Book 4.
January 1—First day for green stamps G, H and I in Book 4.
February 1—First day for green stamps J, K and L in Book 4.
March 1—First day for green stamps M, N and O in Book 4.
April 1—First day for green stamps P, Q and R in Book 4.
May 1—First day for green stamps S, T and U in Book 4.
June 1—First day for green stamps V, W and X in Book 4.
July 1—First day for green stamps Y, Z and AA in Book 4.
August 1—First day for green stamps AB, AC and AD in Book 4.
September 1—First day for green stamps AE, AF and AG in Book 4.
October 1—First day for green stamps AH, AI and AJ in Book 4.
November 1—First day for green stamps AK, AL and AM in Book 4.
December 1—First day for green stamps AN, AO and AP in Book 4.

U.S. British

as the Americans all along the Gue...
The British lost the ridge commanding the town to the southwest...
The Americans engaged in hand-to-hand struggles right down to the river banks...
The British lost the ridge commanding the town to the southwest...
The Americans engaged in hand-to-hand struggles right down to the river banks...
The British lost the ridge commanding the town to the southwest...
The Americans engaged in hand-to-hand struggles right down to the river banks...

First Choice of Millions

B. R. HAMM MOTOR CO.
Hope, Ark.
Phone 58

They Could Afford a Little Extra

...CAN'T YOU?

Wanted! Men and Women Who Are Hard of Hearing

To make this simple, no risk hearing test, if you are temporarily deafened, bothered by ringing buzz, or have trouble hearing, we can help you. We have a simple hearing test that can be done at home. It's free. If you pass, we'll give you $100.00. If you fail, we'll give you $50.00. No risk, no charge.

Wanted! Men and Women Who Are Hard of Hearing

To make this simple, no risk hearing test, if you are temporarily deafened, bothered by ringing buzz, or have trouble hearing, we can help you. We have a simple hearing test that can be done at home. It's free. If you pass, we'll give you $100.00. If you fail, we'll give you $50.00. No risk, no charge.

Wanted! Men and Women Who Are Hard of Hearing

To make this simple, no risk hearing test, if you are temporarily deafened, bothered by ringing buzz, or have trouble hearing, we can help you. We have a simple hearing test that can be done at home. It's free. If you pass, we'll give you $100.00. If you fail, we'll give you $50.00. No risk, no charge.

Wanted! Men and Women Who Are Hard of Hearing

To make this simple, no risk hearing test, if you are temporarily deafened, bothered by ringing buzz, or have trouble hearing, we can help you. We have a simple hearing test that can be done at home. It's free. If you pass, we'll give you $100.00. If you fail, we'll give you $50.00. No risk, no charge.

President's Home to Be National Shrine

The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park, N. Y., is now the property of the United States government. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt having just moved the 33-acre estate for use as a "national historic site." The President and his immediate family retain use of the home as a "private residence." The Roosevelt family home, above, at Hyde Park

